

Psalm LIII – Dixit insipiens

- Full
- 1 THE foolish body hath | said · in his | heart :
– | – There | is · no | God.
- 2 Corrupt are they, and become a- | -bominable · in their | wickedness :
there is | none · that | do · eth | good.
- 3 God looked down from heaven upon the | children · of | men :
to see if there were any that would under- | -stand, · and | seek · after | God.
- 4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether be- | come · a- |
-bominable :
there is also none that doeth | good,* | no · not | one.
- 5 Are not they without understanding that | work | wickedness :
eating up my people as if they would eat bread? they | have · not | called u · pon | God.
- 6 They were afraid where | no · fear | was :
for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee; thou hast put them to confusion, because | God | hath · de- | -spised them.
- 7 O that the salvation were given unto Israel | out · of | Sion :
O that the Lord would deliver his | peo · ple | out of · cap- | -tivity!
- 8 Then should | Jacob · re- | -jice :
and | Israel · should be | right | glad.
- 9 Gloria :
